

(This plays out with each line hard-panned LEFT or RIGHT)

Over here on the left, there's been an accident. A child is seriously injured.

Over here on the right, is the child's terrified father.

The young girl needs immediate assistance to survive.

Her dad doesn't know what to do.

So over here, a child lies unconscious, running out of time.

And over here, her dad - a potential life-saver - is frozen in panic.

Between this injured girl...

And this distraught dad...

Is the barrier of not knowing first aid.
