

CLIENT:	WEST AUSTRALIAN BALLET	VERSION:
JOB NO:	WAB000001	V1
WRITER:	MATT WILSON
DESCRIPTION:	DRACULA AT CROWN

The Room:

We hear an Eastern European man making a call to the hotel reception

Attendant: Hello, reception?

Man: Yes, there's a problem with my room.

Attendant: What seems to be the problem, sir?

Man: It has a beautiful view. It's unacceptable.
(Awkward silence)

Attendant: Sorry, I don't quite understand?

Man: It has a view! From the window!
I specifically asked for 'no windows'.

Attendant: Sir, all our rooms have windows.

Man: No. We must find a solution before sunrise.

The Buffet:

We hear an Eastern European man making a call to the International Buffet.

Buffet Attendant: Crown International Buffet?

Man: Hello. Do you have... Chinese?

Buffet Attendant: Ah, yes sir. We have a range of Chinese.

Man: Mmm delicious. And Indian?

Buffet Attendant: Yes sir.

Man: Italian?

Buffet Attendant: Yes. We have Italian.

Man: Yummy. What about... Norwegian?

Buffet Attendant: Ah, no. Sorry Sir.

Man: Shame. The Norwegians are the most delicious.

Bloody Mary

We hear an Eastern European man making a call to Room Service

Attendant: Hello?

Man: I'd like a cocktail... Do you make A Bloody Mary?

Attendant: Yes sir.

Man: I'll take one.

Attendant: Also a bloody Simon,
A bloody Jessica,
Two bloody Brads, and
What's your name?
