

More than a piece of paper - Robot

Boy : Yeah hi, umm what do I do if I want to build stuff?

Counsellor : Oh, you should do a Diploma of Construction.

Boy : And if I wanted to build really big robots?

Counsellor : Well you can do a Diploma in Engineering Technology.

Boy : Oh, engineering, yeah ofcourse. Hey, do you reckon that these robots could turn into cars?

Counsellor : If you did a certificate in auto mechanics, then sure that could happen.

Boy : Oh great great. And what about, if these robots turned evil?

Counsellor : Uhhh evil robots, man I hate them so much.
Maybe consider a certificate in security operations.

Boy : Excellent. That sounds like the way forward then.

VO: A TAFE or training qualification is more than just a piece of paper. It's a gigantic shape shifting robot car that probably needs to learn a thing or two About respect for the general public. More than a piece of paper - Party

Guy : Ah hi, um i'm interested in parties.

Counsellor : Well you could do a Diploma of Event Management.

Guy : Ok, so what if i wanted to make a suit for this party?

Counsellor : Alright, well we've got certificates in fashion design actually.

Guy : Ah good, good, but i mean i want the suit to be made of cake.

Counsellor : Yes, well there's plenty of certificates in cookery that you could do.

Guy : Good, but im extremely concerned about the candles I'll be wearing.

Counsellor : Yeah, well then you'll need to consider a fire fighting and emergency operations certificate.

Guy : Ah awesome.

VO: A TAFE or training qualification is more than just a piece of paper. It's a pinstriped double breasted Crème brûlée cake suit which may or may not catch fire. More than a piece of paper – Frog

Girl : Yeah hi, I was just wondering what I'd do if I wanted to work with frogs?

Counsellor : Well, you'd do a certificate in a animal study.

Girl : And if I wanted my frogs to be made of chocolate?

Counsellor : Then you'd do a certificate in hospitality and patisserie.

Girl : Um ok, and how about if I wanted to race these frogs?

Counsellor : Well they'd probably need some training, so you'd do a Diploma of Sport and Coaching.

Girl : Ok, here's one for ya, what if wanted to race these chocolate frogs in the Grand Prix?

Counsellor : Well you could do a Diploma of Motor Sport.

Girl : Ah, cool, thanks.

VO: A TAFE or training qualification is more than just a piece of paper. It's a turbo charged super frog, who dreams to be the first chocolafied amphibian to stick it to those Grand Prix big shots.
