

Siren Awards

RADIO Script

Tourism Tasmania – Come Down for Air

Radio Ad: Dock

We hear the ocean lapping up against boats, bells tolling and birds in the distance.

6:32am, Triabunna.

The trawlers tug gently at their tethers

Woolly men in galoshes busy themselves with worn crates and wise cracks

Cormorants lurk, hoping for a sliver of squid

Yes, it's all happening here and the day has barely begun

Tasmania
Come down for air.